Think of living a year or two dead; dead to all practical intents and purposes—dead, with the autograph of death inscribed on brow and cheek and lip.

Thousands of women live for a year or two after all helpfulness and happiness have gone out of their lives.

When a woman becomes hopelessly helpless and unhappy she is practically dead. The young woman to whom the future is a dreary waste, the young wife who is a helpless, nervous invalid, the mother whose babies are a burden instead of a blessing—all these, unless they take the right measures to recover their health, are better dead than living. In the majority of cases these ghosts of women owe their condition to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Frequently they have been deceived by the incorrect diagnosis of some obscure physician and do not understand the true nature of their trouble. It only costs a two-cent postage stamp for a woman to write and describe her condition to Dr. R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y. He will answer letters from ailing women without charge. He is the discoverer of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Pill, the greatest of all known medicines for women. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned in maternity and makes them strong, healthy and vigorous. It banishes the indispositions of the anxious period and makes babies coming easy and almost painless. It cures all disorders and displacements and checks chilblains, rheumatism, etc.

Previous to mother's last wife was very ill. Dr. Pierce's Pill, a bottle of Clear Water, Witch Hazel, "two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made her well and strong."

MEXICAN ASSASSINS.

THE MURDEROUS REVOLT IN THE TAOS VALLEY.

Out of the Seventeen Americans Who Were Trapped by the Mexicans Only One Escaped Death Either by Fire or Bullet.

John Albert, who ended his days at Walsenburg, Colo., had exciting adventures in every section west of the Mississippi. He saw two wars and took an active share in the Indian uprisings, yet when on his deathbed he was asked to dictate to a reporter the scene he considered most exciting in his life he chose a theme with which few if any of his countrymen are acquainted.

The revolt in the Taos valley, if ever it came to the ears of the authorities, was never universally disseminated. It appears on no page of common history, and although for horror it compares favorably with the massacre at the Alamo, no novelist has seen fit to make it a central theme.

The section now known as New Mexico was formally taken possession of by the Americans in the spring of 1846. General Kearny was at that time in command of the invading forces. He made his headquarters at Santa Fe and remained in active superintendence for more than a year. At the expiration of that period the growing need of troops on the Pacific coast led to his withdrawal to Lower California. He left two regiments with a military governor in charge. Charles Bent, with a handful of men, was left to guard Santa Fe. The Mexican governor, General Armijo, had fled on the advance of the hated Yankees. His people, no matter what their secret thoughts might be, had been the most peaceable of subjects, yet the body of the army had not been gone two months before the Americans saw that trouble was imminent.

The only man who escaped with any pen can portray it. Arroyo Honda was a town of some 1,200 inhabitants, mostly Mexicans and Pueblo Indians. It lay in the Santa Fe district, but too far away for aid to come. The total of Americans in the place was 17, most of whom were rough trappers and mountaineers. The entire town turned out to an impromptu mass meeting on the plaza. It was decided to revolt and return to the Mexican authority. Well knowing that the band of Yankees, although comparatively insignificant in numbers, would resist such a step to the last, it was determined to shoot all on sight. For this purpose the mob spread through the town. But through some source of other Governor Bent had received a tip. He sent off to Santa Fe for help and then, gathering his little band about him, fled to the only refuge the place afforded.

"The next morning," said John Albert, "they commenced the attack by sending in to us a flag of truce, demanding our arms and ammunition and an unconditional surrender of ourselves. I told the boys they could do as they pleased, but I knew treachery would lead us to certain death in the end, and I was going to die with my gun in my hands and not be murdered like a common dog."

"This was the turning point in the matter, and they all concluded to fight it out as best they could. The men who came to make a treaty with us went back. Their forces were secreted behind the brow of a hill near by us, and one of them, after a manner of the wild Indians in opening a battle, came to the top of the ridge and danced a jig and sang a song of defiance. I knew the time had come, and the sooner the bloody work commenced the sooner we would know our fate."

"We of the mountaineers had collected in a building of considerable size and the only one in the place that was two stories in height. The dancing Indian was within gunshot, and I killed him. Billy Austin stood close by and me, and when another man came to drag the body back Austin shot him. By this time my gun was loaded, and I killed a third man. Then the hurrah commenced, and the air was filled with bullets from the guns in the hands of the men who lay behind the top of the hill. The bullets rattled against the house like hail. There was not a window left in it. Although we saw we were in a trap, we fought on.

"When the sun was setting, the Mexicans made a furious charge and set fire to the house we were in and got under the walls of other buildings. Soon everything was ablaze. The roar of the yelling heads on the outside and the excitement of the men on the inner side was deafening. We tried to escape by digging through the floor down into the granary. The house was filling with Mexicans, and everything was in confusion. Fortunately for me in the confusion I escaped from the house. I don't know how many shots were fired at me, but none took effect. I had a bullet in my clothes, one cut off the brim of my hat, and another cut the band, and I lost it from my head. In the excitement I forgot my coat and was out in the world alone without coat, hat or friends and with 140 miles of mountain road between me and safety."

Albert wandered for three days over the mountains without food and exposed to the bitter cold. He reached the American lines at last, the first to bring news of the uprising. Of course, when the regiment arrived on the scene the Taos valley quickly quieted. It was not long after that that the Mexican war broke out. One-half of that nation was transferred to Uncle Sam, in consideration of which old scores were wiped out. No penalties were exacted for the Arroyo Honda massacre, yet it must go down as one of the most horrible in our western annals.

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

The report of the Nicaraguan Canal Commission makes the canal feasible in all its particulars. Much time has been occupied by the United States over the projected canal. There have been bucking and filling caused by uncertainty about the practicability of the work necessary to make a success of the undertaking. Doubt and suspension of opinion have caused delay, no better or an indisposition to do the work, but because of the many adverse theories that were presented by those interested in delay. There has been a conviction with those friendly to the project that a time would come when a canal would be a necessity that would demand positive action by the Government, when time and necessity have come in the order of things, and the canal will be an assured fact through its completion in the near future.

Late developments in the orient that alarm a ten thousand, and in which active participation is required, have given to the canal scheme vitality that no other conditions could have given it. Naval necessities have become, because of late changes, by far a more liberal intercourse with the world by the people, an imperative force demanding a water-way over the isthmus. The requirements of commerce and the future development and prosperity of the Pacific must make a demand that a canal be made that could not be set aside or be indefinitely postponed, but the needs of commerce or the interests of a section of the people are not lighter than heavy weight, and the same countless minister over the work required to make a canal would have continued till the last end if the world have a hundred years literature of old age.

The clear-headed far-seeing Democrats at Washington no where a year ago demanded that the Government make war on Spain, and as a conclusion to that demand the United States are in an advanced position in the affairs, present and future, of the world that makes immediate a task necessary that will furnish the means to a speedy development of the commercial interests of the people who live on the west coast of the country. When the canal is completed the larger part of the commerce of Europe with the orient will pass over the isthmus and across the Pacific. The commercial facilities of the world will be enlarged, and as the facilities are enlarged commerce will increase under a stimulus received from larger facilities. Hawaii will be in the direct pathway of European commerce with the orient, which will make the islands one of the most wealthy dependencies on the globe, yet there are people so blind to the country's great opportunities that they oppose the future greatness of the United States through an assured control of the Pacific because of something that they believe there is said in the Declaration of Independence that applies to Aquitaine and his followers in their rebellion against the United States.

EXHIBITS NEVADA PRODUCTS.

The Nevada State Fair is not exclusively a horse racing institution. It is established as an exposition of Nevada's products. The outlook for an exhibition this year is not very promising but there is still time to have a representative display.

Nevada produces the best honey in the world.

Exhibit it.

Nevada exports the best butter in the world.

Exhibit it.

Nevada raises the best beef breeding stock.

Exhibit it.

Nevada produces ores of gold, silver, lead, copper, iron, zinc and antimony.

Exhibit them.

Nevada has quarries of marble, travertine, onyx and other building and ornamental stone.

Make exhibits from them.

Nevada manufactures many useful articles of food, wear and general utility.

Exhibit them.

Nevada has painters, sculptors, statuary and people skilled in fine needlework.

Make an art exhibit.

Nevada's farms and gardens grow first quality fruits, cereals, flowers and vegetables.

Exhibit them.

In brief, the resources of the State are little understood and appreciated.

A stranger who visits the fair and sees little or nothing in the way of an exhibit will only find his first impression.

sions (gained from our libelers abroad) verified, but if he sees displayed the products of mine, quarry, factory, paddock, field and garden he will prove hereafter a living advertisement of Nevada's grand resources.

THE MAN WITH THE SHEARS.

When an honest, respectable editor clips an article from an exchange he gives credit to the newspaper from which it is taken. Unless that paper is a copyrighted edition there is no law to punish the thief of the shears and pastepot except the rules of honesty and decency. This rule, we are pleased to note, is observed by nearly all our exchanges in Nevada, with the exception of the Silver State. That journal is most brazen in its flagrant infraction of this rule. It is as much a pirate as any black-peananted felucca that ever sailed the Spanish main.

The JOURNAL incurs trouble and expense in obtaining news of vital interest to this State. All exchanges are welcome and are invited to copy these articles, giving, as matter of courtesy, the customary credits.

The Silver State has on several prior occasions been more or less greatly reminded that it is pursuing a dishonorable course by its wholesale thievery, but it has not yet changed its unkind policy of withholding credits.

Now, brother, won't you be good?

ONCE upon a time there came a man from Corsica who overthrew the government of France. Some day the latest victim of French injustice will return from the Isle of the Vendetta. Will there will be a coincidence?

Our new battleship Kearsarge will soon be placed in commission. In time of need she will be found worthy to bear the appellation of her immortal namesake.

A MILLION DOLLAR COMPANY WILL MINE

Copper Properties in Mason Valley to Be Developed at Once.

J. C. Coombs of Boston and George A. Lauber of Denver arrived in Reno yesterday morning and left by the local for Wabuska.

Mr. Coombs is attorney and Mr. Lauber is engineer for the newly incorporated Boston and Nevada Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company. This corporation has a million dollar capitalization.

Its property consists of copper mines in Mason Valley and the Mount View gold mine in south eastern Nevada.

This company is successor of the old Boston and Nevada Company that opened and partially developed the Mason Valley mines a few years ago and then got into a financial and legal muddle. These mines are located in Yerington district 14 miles from Wabuska. There is plenty of good ore in sight and a late model smelter on the property.

It is the intention of the Boston capitalists to operate the property on a large scale. Men will be put to work in a few days.

Harry's Good News.

Harry Davis received a telegram yesterday afternoon from San Francisco which made him feel so good that he felt an easy prey to the Wheelmen's soliciting committee. Some weeks ago Mr. Davis went below for medical treatment and yesterday came his physician's encouraging report. Mrs. Davis is improving rapidly and will soon be able to return to Reno.

They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

Ice Cream Parlors.

The Palace bakery rooms are not only the coziest and most dignified place of its kind in town, but we also assert, without fear of contradiction, that our goods and service are far superior to any.

They Mean Business.

The new management of the Pyramid mines are hustlers. Six teams went out yesterday loaded with lumber, tools, supplies and men. There will be a lively camp at the Crown Prince before snow flies.

Very Easy Money.

Messrs. Pindler, Jones and Dunn rustled in a lively manner yesterday, and in a few hours received $128 in cash subscriptions with which to help defray the expenses of the relay race.

Fruit Boxes Galore.

The Verdi Mill Company runs its box factory every night until 10 o'clock. The big decisions fruit crop and fine citrus fruit prospects have created a heavy demand for fruit boxes.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlin's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.

In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Oberndorf's Cough, Cough and Diarrhea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons have a point of telling of it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be beneficial or saving other lives. For Alice W. Farmer

The Best in the World.

We believe Oberndorf's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine given out for coughs and colds.—The Herald, Andersonville Indiana. For sale by W. Pinniger.

You're Off Again, Allen.

Brother Bragg, you're a bad guesser. You sent your venom upon a gentleman who was in no manner responsible for the wild jokes that were poked at you on account of your long train tour. By the way, the "dripping for seab" yard originated in your own shop. J. B.

BIG BODY OF GOLD ORE

Renoites Think They Have a Good Thing.

LARGE LEDGE NEAR THIS CITY

A Tunnel Being Run to Tap it—Thought to Be a Brunswick Extension.

Several weeks ago G. D. Burton, L.

H. Williams, Captain Mills and W. G. Caffrey discovered a large cropping of seven miles southeast of Reno that stands thirty feet out of the ground and is seventy feet wide. No special value was attached to the discovery on account of its size and prominence, but assays were made, and the prospectors discovered that they had something like a bonanza on their hands. The average returns were $10 a ton in gold.

The footwall was also tested in a number of places, and found to carry $100 on an average in gold. The hanging wall is limestone, with a granite base, and the footwall is on a slaty, quartz stringer formation.

The quartz itself is of a bastard nature, carrying besides gold, a quantity of iron, gypsum, lime and magnesia.

Under the direction of Captain Mills a tunnel is being run to catch the formation at a depth of seventy-five feet.

The tunnel is already in about 100 feet. The owners expect to pick up the ledge in another thirty feet.

There are six claims located, and the group has been named the Rattlesnake, the owners think they have fallen on an extension of the Brunswick ledge.

School opened Monday. Forty-five first. Pictures are enrolled. The recitations are being held in Government tents.

The foundations for the new agency buildings are laid, and timbers are being framed. The new buildings will be somewhat on the lines of the old ones, but more substantial and better in every way. They will be heated by steam, lit by a private gas plant, and have sanitary plumbing.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and rubbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

WHY THE TRUCKEE RIVER IS LOW

The T. & L. T. R. R. Said to be to Blame for the Water Shortage.

Notwithstanding the fairly heavy snowfall in the Sierras last winter, the Truckee river has been very low all summer, there being scarcely enough water to fill the irrigation ditches, and nothing left for power.

A resident of Reno recently visited Lake Tahoe and discovered the cause of the water shortage. A dam has been constructed across the outlet of the lake, and the water is held back as a consequence. This has presumably been done by the contractors or management of the Truckee & Lake Tahoe Railroad Company, in order that the construction work might not be retarded.

If the owners of record water consider that the presence of this dam is in injury to them they could not be blamed if they took summary means to remove the obstruction.
